

Magnetic Presence and Charisma

Wednesday, 23 January 2008

Your level of happiness, success in life and health is directly affected by the quality of your presence. When you live with vigor and you radiate a positive and magnetic presence, you feel younger and more energetic. People are attracted to energy - positive energy!

That is why, with the Pizzazz Factor I share with you very easy to implement principals that can help you cultivate this magnetic presence and charisma that will enhance your quality of life in every area.

When you look around and become aware of the people around you, and you observe each one with their own personal presence, It is funny how you'll notice that unfortunately the majority of people seem lack luster and bored with life.

It is up to you to spice up your life by cultivating skills that gives you energy and mental clarity.

Your presence, the way you carry and present yourself affects everything you do.

What is presence?

Presence is how you think, move, talk, listen, feel and relate to others. All these factors will determine how you perform and if you excel. But most of all, by cultivating a positive attitude... which is what greatly enhances your presence and charisma, you will live a happier and fuller life.

So don't wait another moment - Get some Pizzazz in your life. It isn't as difficult as you might imagine and the pay-off is unbelievable. All it takes is the desire, a positive attitude and some awareness of the way you present yourself to others and you know you are already on your way to having a magnetic and charismatic presence.

"By reinventing yourself and by knowing the rules of engagement, you can earn a great salary, travel around the world, and enjoy the comforts of life on your term" - Edward Brown

Start each day with the intention to impress, smile and be approachable to others and you will immediately feel freer, more in control and you'll move forward in life with less effort.

Vanessa, Approach each day with Pizzazz and you will exude Magnetic Presence and Charisma.

Kind regards

Vanessa Bader

P.S. At the Metamorphosis 2008 seminar in February we will be exploring and developing your Charismatic Presence so you can get the most out of your career, your friendships and relationships - your life!
